This planner was created based on what I have personally found helpful in planning for my blog content each month. The entire document was designed to print front/back for an entire year. Pages that you may need extra copies of are placed at the end of the file.

I use a 3 ring binder to store my planner ~ you can see more details on how I am using my new blog planner in this post:

<http://www.homeschoolcreations.net/2012/07/free-printable-blog-planner/>

This blog planner was created by Jolanthe Erb for personal use only. They are provided FREE of charge and you are welcome to download them for your personal and/or classroom use only. However, free or purchased printables are NOT to be reproduced, hosted, sold, or stored on any other website or electronic retrieval system {such as Scribd or Google docs}. My printables are copyright protected and I appreciate your help in keeping them that way.

If you download and use some of my printables and then blog about them, please provide a link back to my blog {not the direct file link} and let me know. I would love to stop by and see how you are using them!

A stylized illustration of a plant with a long, thin stem and several clusters of green, circular fruits or flowers. The plant is set against a background of horizontal black lines. The stem is a single, continuous line that curves slightly to the right. There are four main clusters of green circles: one at the top left, one at the top right, one in the middle left, and one at the bottom. Each cluster consists of several circles of varying sizes, connected by thin lines to a central point on the stem. The background is white with horizontal black lines.

A stylized illustration of a plant with a long, thin stem and several clusters of green circles at the top, set against a background of horizontal lines. The plant has a central vertical stem that branches out into several clusters of green circles of varying sizes. The circles are arranged in a way that suggests a flower or a seed pod. The background consists of a series of horizontal lines that create a grid-like pattern. The overall style is minimalist and modern.
